

ADVOCACY ALERT

Update

Due to a mailing error by the city, neighbors of the future Ericksen Community were not notified of the May 12 public participation meeting at Planning Commission about this HRB project. The city is obliged to hold another.

If you missed the last one, here's your chance to preview the conceptual site plan and show your support for affordable housing. Consider attending, making public comment, or emailing the Commission. It's important for members to know that affordable housing has broad community support, especially when they hear regularly from a few individuals who oppose it.

Background

HRB owns one of the last remaining undeveloped parcels of land on Ericksen Avenue, where we will develop an 18-22-unit multifamily residence. The plot—two-thirds of an acre at the corner of Knechtel Way—was sold to HRB in 2019 by a longtime supporter at a fraction of its market value.

This will be the first HRB-designed project since the completion of Ferncliff Village phase 2 in 2016, and we are thrilled to have this opportunity to make optimal use of the site and create something that is green built and beautiful.
